Elba mayor says FEMA has given final approval on 2015 flood buyout program

Elba Mayor Mickey Murdock said this week he was happy to finally receive good news from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) regarding the flood buyout from the December 2015 flood, just shy of the 4-year mark of the local disaster. "FEMA has made its final approval and funding for the flood of December 2015," the mayor said. "It is now in the hands of AEMA [Alabama Emergency Management Agency]."

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security's FEMA approved the federal grant to the State of Alabama for the Elba acquisition project. According to the grant summary, it will fund the acquisition and demolition of up to 100 at-risk flood prone structures located within the City of Elba and dedicate the land to open space use as part of the city's ongoing flood mitigation efforts.

The 75 percent cost-share project has a total cost of $4,134,873 with FEMA's share being $3,101,155.

New Brockton Town Council approves purchase of tasers for police department

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The New Brockton Town Council met Monday night, Nov. 4, for the regular monthly meeting, and moved swiftly through the agenda.

The officers with the police department soon will be equipped with tasers after the council voted to purchase five new tasers and the accompanying equipment for them. This came at a cost of approximately $2,000.

Police chief Dale Grimes said the officers would be trained in the proper use of the tasers. He said a training class already was set up for this.

The council also approved a new contract Monday night with the City of Elba for the emergency dispatch services for the town to be provided through the dispatch center at the Elba Police Department. The cost for these services is figured per capita each year. The initial year's cost for New Brockton is just of $3,500.

While giving his monthly activity report to the council, Chief Grimes thanked them for "everything you do for us."

Elba High School Alumni Association gives to Elba City Schools to help with new PA System for Tiger Stadium

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba High School Alumni Association answered a call for assistance last week when a check was presented to Elba City Schools superintendent Chris Moseley to help with the purchase and installation of a new Public Addressing System at Tiger Stadium.

"A portion of the current PA system at Tiger Stadium went bad during Homecoming activities back in October," said Alumni Association president Linda Hodge. "Knowing the important role Tiger Stadium plays not only for our schools but also for our entire community for events, the officers of the alumni association asked immediately if there was anything we could do to help."

With the football playoffs coming up, Hodge said there was an immediate need to get something done about the PA system.

"A major goal of our organization is to be able help our school system with needs when they arise," Hodge said. "We were in a position to help with this need and jumped on the opportunity to help the school system get it done and done quickly."

Superintendent Moseley said school officials had worked very hard since the speakers went out at homecoming to get a new system ready.

"It is great to have an alumni association that has continued to grow and raise money and can be helpful in a time like this," he said. "I would like to thank the alumni association for their donation to help get a new PA system at the stadium."

The alumni association donated $4,000 to the new PA system, which is just Veterans Day... what does it mean?

Officially, Veterans Day is a day celebrated annually on November 11 as a tribute to military veterans who have served in the U.S. Armed Forces. It honors all military veterans, including those still with us.

Veterans Day, originally celebrated as Armistice Day, was first issued on November 11, 1919 by President Woodrow Wilson a year after the end of World War I. The purpose of Armistice day was to honor the fallen soldiers of The Great War for their sacrifice and bravery. Seven years later in 1926, Congress adopted a resolution requesting President Coolidge issue annual proclamations on November 11, making Armistice Day a legal holiday.

In 1945, World War II veteran Raymond Weeks had the idea to expand Armistice Day to celebrate all veterans rather than just the ones who died in World War I. He led a delegation to General Dwight Eisenhower, who was all for the idea. Weeks then conducted the first Veterans Day celebration in 1945 in Alabama and every year until his death in 1985.

In 1982, Weeks was honored by President Reagan with the Presidential Citizenship Medal. He was also named the "Father of Veterans Day" by Elizabeth Dole.

Ed Rees, the U.S. Representative from Emporia, Kansas, presented a bill establishing the holiday through to congress. Eisenhower, who was now President and also from Kansas, signed the bill into law on May 26, 1954, eight and a half years after Raymond Weeks held the first Veteran's Day. A few weeks later, June 1, Congress amended the bill replacing "Armistice" with "Veterans."

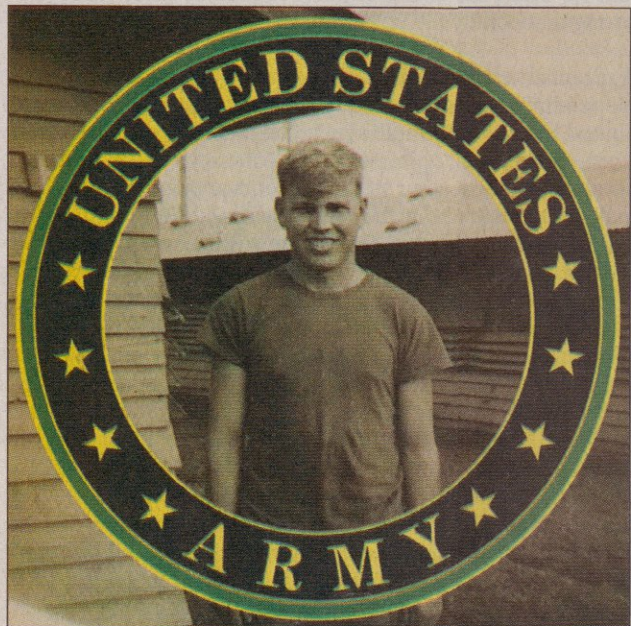

In my home, it means celebrating a man who served his country as a young 20-something year old all the way across the world in a country called Vietnam. It means celebrating my dad, William Randle Hodge...a veteran of the U.S. Army.

To All Veterans and their families:

The American Legion Post 42, located at 1085 Neil Grantham Dr., in Elba, will host a Veterans Day Pancake Breakfast on Saturday, Nov. 9, from 7:30-9 a.m.

This is free for all veterans and their families.

The Pancake Breakfast will be followed by a wreath ceremony at the Veterans Memorial in Elba at 10 a.m.

A young William Randle Hodge standing outside the barracks in Vietnam in the early-70's. Today, at age 71, he continues to love his country and will be the first to tell you that he is proud to have served his nation honorably.

Jacob Rodriguez is a senior at Elba High School and has already pledged his service to the Army. Jacob completed basic training this past summer, and plans to go to active duty after he receives his college degree.

For others, like Amy (Giles) Sewell, it means not only celebrating a dad who served in the military, but it also means celebrating a son - a senior in high school - that already has pledged his allegiance to this country and plans to serve in today's military. Her son, Jacob Morris Rodriguez, completed basic training over the summer, and knows exactly what he wants to do when he graduates from Elba High School in May.

"Jacob plans to go to college [after high school] and then once he gets his degree go active duty," Amy said. "I couldn't be any more proud of Jacob than I am, but I am still a momma that wants to keep him home out of harms way."

Amy's dad, Barry Morris Giles, served in Vietnam, and her granddad, Hobart Morris Giles, served in World War II. So, she said the military has always been a part of their family.

"Veterans Day has always meant a lot to me, but it definitely means a lot more now that my son has joined [the military]," she said. "We definitely say 'Hooah' a lot more around the house now!"

As for me, I have always stood proudly for the National Anthem with my hand over my heart because I grew up learning from a dad that is proud of his country and was proud of his service to that country. His stories of serving from basic training on U.S. soil to serving on the ground in Vietnam are embedded in my brain, and a daughter could not be prouder of a dad than I am of mine.

We say "Go Army" at our house with pride, allegiance and thankfulness.

It really comes down to one thing... Amy and I are just like many others on Veterans Day... We are Proud! Proud of our Dads [and Granddad] who served previously and proud of a son that pledges to serve today!

And, Veterans Day is a day to say "thank you" to all who served and continue to serve today.

"You've definitely got to be proud of all of them," Amy said. "It takes a lot for our guys [and girls] to make that kind of commitment."

Monday, Nov. 11, is Veterans Day...be sure to say thanks!

"The spirit of resistance to government is so valuable on certain occasions, that I wish it always to be kept alive. It will often be exercised when wrong, but better so than not to be exercised at all." - Thomas Jefferson

A question hit us Sunday afternoon of why we had not taken a public position on the Donald Trump impeachment issue. You know, the one that has bogged Washington D. C. down to a crawl. Oh yes, the opinions are there, but you must go past the ongoing hearings to get to our position. The House will vote (basically along party lines) to impeach but it will never get through the Republican controlled Senate. The Republican Senators believe in Donald Trump and/or hear the voters back home breathing down their neck. Even if there was a real chance of the issue getting past the Senate, any good lawyer could hang the whole issue up well past the upcoming election and deep into the next term of office (which Trump will win). Our feelings are that it is highly likely Trump did withhold U.S. grant money to Ukraine in an effort to get 'political dirt' on the Joe Biden family. He has spent a lifetime in private business with a reputation of "wheeling and dealing" with a heavy hand and apparently continues that mindset while dealing with government (the people's) business. Like it or dislike it - does the issue rise to the level of impeachment? Clearly it does to the die-hard anti-Trump folks, but not to the equally die-hard Trump supporters. The question is, 'Does it rise to impeachment level in the courts of the United States?' Only the court system itself can ultimately answer that question and the country is a long way from even officially asking such a question and even longer from getting a final, definitive answer. That all may sound like a political cop out, but it is an effort at trying to be fair. We still don't think Trump as president is good for the United States but would rather the voters make that decision than there be a stain on our nation and our political system for using the courts to get a change of leadership. In a strong democracy the voters normally handle such business.

A recent article in a national publication quoted law enforcement numbers to show that overall crime rate is down in the United States. The article also noted that is directly opposite from the general opinion of the American public. Speak about a crime in your neighborhood and most folks will make a remark about the 'rising' crime and ponder what should be done about it. The blame will be on drugs, falling morals, or whatever, but the public feelings are that "something must be done." Reading national news or watching the tube and crime is in the headlines regularly. Birmingham, Alabama (inner city Birmingham) was recently rated as having one of the highest crime rates in America. . . not number 1, but close. Having a city with high crime rates nearby could be why Alabama folks and those near other leading cities feel crime is on the increase. This is foremost on our mind today because of two recent incidents at our home. The first was a busted in door when we got home just before six one afternoon. That happened between 2 p.m. and our arrival. We have found nothing missing but had to get the door fixed. The next was a very unusual happening following an innocent sounding knock on the door Halloween night. However, it was NOT a trick-a-treat knock but one from an adult male with more serious things on his mind. By sheer luck our reflex reactions of slamming and locking the door ended that near miss.

Today, Elba again has an in-town furniture/appliance store. Badcock has opened on the square and is having an official Grand Opening today (Thursday). Owner Kim Maphis and her staff will be on their best behavior, smiling and greeting all the visitors. Drop by and look over their diverse inventory.

Diabetes is 8th leading cause of death in Alabama

Each November, communities across the country observe National Diabetes Month to bring attention to diabetes and its impact on millions of Americans.

Diabetes is a disease in which glucose (sugar) builds up in the bloodstream because the body does not produce or properly use insulin. Nationally, 30.3 million Americans are estimated to have diabetes and more than 84 million adults have prediabetes.

According to the 2018 Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System, an estimated 14.5 percent of Alabama adults reported being told they had diabetes (excluding gestational diabetes). Alabama ranks higher than the national median of 11.0 percent. In 2017, diabetes was the 8th leading cause of death in Alabama.

The Diabetes Branch of the Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) works in collaboration with many other programs within and outside the department to help people delay or prevent development of diabetes and to reduce complications related to the disease. Diabetes-related complications can be serious, costly and deadly. They include heart disease, stroke, kidney damage (chronic kidney disease and kidney failure), blindness and amputations of the legs and feet.

Diabetes-related complications are more likely and more severe among people whose diabetes is not well managed and those who have had diabetes over a long period of time.

During November the ADPH will debunk myths about diabetes and educate the public on the changing face of diabetes in the 21st century through its website and through its social media by promoting "Sugar Shock Facts."

The good news is there are programs available in Alabama to help prevent individuals from developing the disease and assist those diagnosed with diabetes to better manage their health. Diabetes prevention and diabetes self-management education (DSME) programs are available throughout the state and can help reduce the burden caused by the disease. These programs are proven effective for those who regularly attend.

The ADPH website has information regarding these programs, along with numerous other resources, at alabamapublichealth.gov/diabetes. To access information about available programs, including a map featuring sites throughout the state, click the "Prevention" link in the left-hand column.

For information on DSME sites, select the "Self-Management Education" link. Also, the website offers an online prediabetes risk test to help determine whether a person is at risk of developing the disease.

However, he said he hopes local legislators and officials could help explain that Elba's citizens have been waiting almost four years now for the money promised to them by both state and federal officials.

Murdock said he hopes the process will move more quickly now that FEMA has announced its funding approval on this project, and citizens will see results.

chased garbage cans, etc. and financed those things through 1st Source Bank.

Holley said in her most recent attempt she finally discussed the matter with someone that was able to give her a payoff amount on the bill. She said it was $31,660.40.

"It is my recommendation that we pay this in full and get it over with," Holley said to the council.

She said the money was available to pay the bill in full and remove it from the town's debt.

Council members voted unanimously to pay the bill to 1st Source Bank in full.

Town clerk Debbie Andrews went over the monthly financials with council members. She noted that at the end of October the town had a balance of $172,851.38 in the general fund.

The regular monthly bills for November were estimated at $19,265.87, and council members voted to allow the town clerk to pay the bills.

Before adjourning, the mayor reminded everyone that the town offices would be closed Monday, Nov. 11, in observance of Veterans Day. However, she said the garbage would still be picked up as normal on that day.

The New Brockton Christmas Parade is set for Saturday, Dec. 7, at 11 a.m. The mayor said she was excited that the Army Band from Ft. Rucker would be participating in the parade this year.

Also, the mayor thanked the beautification committee for all it does for the town. She said their efforts are noticeable and greatly appreciated.

"I appreciate us all working together," Holley said.

The next town council meeting for New Brockton will be Monday, Dec. 2, at 6 p.m.

"There was never any doubt in the minds of our officers when this issue arose," Hodge said. "We knew we needed to help the school, and we were proud to be able to help as much as we could because the PA System at Tiger Stadium is something that is an asset to our entire community."

According to Moseley, the new PA System is expected to be operational by Friday night's football game when Elba will host Marango in the opening round of the 2019 Alabama High School Football Playoffs.

"Based on the specs of this new system, I truly believe it will be something the entire community and visitors to our stadium will appreciate," Hodge said. "It is great to live in a community like Elba where everyone is always so willing to help one another."

Moseley also noted the help of the City of Elba in getting things ready for the new system to be installed before Friday's playoff game.

"I appreciate the city and the hard work they have put in to help get the new system ready for our playoff game," he said. "They have done a tremendous job in helping us with this project, and we are very thankful."

Writing Thank You Notes after a Funeral

It may be difficult to find the energy to write thank you notes after a funeral, but doing so is important in acknowledging the love and kindness shown to you during this challenging period in your life. Getting them out within 2 to 3 weeks after the funeral is ideal. There are many sympathy acknowledgment cards printed with verses appropriate for the situation. Some find a blank note card is a great way to express thoughts with special messages written for recipients. Others order formal, customized cards to make distribution easier, without taking away from sentiment. The funeral home can assist with these options. Sending thank you notes to everyone is not necessary, but it is important to formally acknowledge those who provided extra assistance or services for you. For instance, those who have:

- Sent or brought flowers
- Made a donation to a charity in honor of your loved one
- Sent personal letters of condolence
- Provided assistance with food, children or running errands
- Acted as Pallbearers
- Musicians who performed at the funeral
- Read at the service
- Presided as clergy over the service

To make sure you do not forget anyone during this chaotic time, keep a notepad and pen handy at all times. If need be, assign a friend or family member to keep a record for you. By identifying floral tributes with information cards, the funeral home can be especially helpful when keeping track of who contributed. Digital photos of arrangements can make for an easier reference at a later date as well. The length of thank you notes is not important. One will find that sending out short messages can be just as appropriate when acknowledging one for their kindness and respect.

Alumnus brings sculpture exhibit to Troy's International Arts Center

An exhibit of sculptures by Alabama artist and Troy University alumnus Larry Strickland will open on Nov. 7 with a reception from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at TROY's International Arts Center on the Troy Campus.

The exhibit, "Larry Strickland: Sticks and Stones," features a collection of sculptures composed of materials Strickland has encountered in nature, such as driftwood, heart pine, bones and stones. The exhibit will be on display through Feb. 5.

Among the pieces included in the exhibit is a larger-than-life horse, a Trojan warrior and numerous angels. A series of poetry will be intertwined with the individual sculptures.

"Larry Strickland's artistic vision co-exists with the destructive effects nature has inflicted upon the materials, celebrating their movement and imperfection by incorporating them into the sculpture's design," said Carrie Jaxon, curator of TROY's International Arts Center. "Strickland sees in each lifeless piece of wood he stumbles upon the representation of life's cycle — birth, life, death, and rebirth through the artist's vision."

A native of Florala, Strickland attended Troy State University following high school, but was drafted into the Army, serving as an illustrator during the Vietnam War. After the war, Strickland chose to further his career in art at the Ringling School of Art in Sarasota, Fla., where he graduated at the top of his class. He later returned to Troy State to complete his degree in 1984.

Strickland has shown his artwork extensively throughout the United States in both solo and group exhibitions. His works have been acquired by a long list of art patrons and private collectors throughout the world. He has had work accepted for the American Watercolor Society Exhibit in New York and has been accepted for exhibition in various shows such as The Jean Lake Memorial Art Show, The Greater New Orleans International Art Exhibit, and The Kentucky Festival.

Strickland sculpts primarily in weathered wood, using bone, copper, shell, deer horn and precious metals as symbolic accents.

He's also well-known for his whimsical cityscape paintings which focus on the old architecture of Southeastern cities. Strickland is also an artist of the written word, writing poetry that at times is inspired by his sculptures.

On the campus of Troy University, Strickland is known for his 9-foot-tall bronze Trojan Warrior sculpture which soars about the Academic Quad on the Troy Campus, which was finished in 2004. Similar statues are found at the University's campuses in Dothan, Montgomery and Phenix City, as well as overlooking the football field at Veterans Memorial Stadium in Troy.

"The nature of my work is a direct result of nature itself," Strickland said. "The wood I find along creeks, streams, and in wooded areas has fallen, weathering over time by the elements."

This natural process of decay is the process I work with. As each piece is excavated and cleaned, only the hardest and most durable wood remains. The movement and beauty of this driftwood becomes the soul of the sculpted piece, as its original form is always left recognizable even after my interpretation is hewn."

CHURCH NEWS

Pastor's Corner

BY DWIGHT JOHNSON, PASTOR
ELBA FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD

One of the joys of my ministry is something I do only one day each year, and this past Saturday was the day for 2019. I taught a synopsis of the course Introduction to Assemblies of God Missions to young ministers who are progressing through their credentialing process. One of my favorite parts of the course is a quote from the German reformer Nikolaus Ludwig von Zinzendorf (1700-1760), who said "Preach the gospel, die, and be forgotten."

That concept is profound today because it runs against the grain of modern society. People want a name, yearn for recognition, and run after titles. Much of the shock factor we see in social media is a sad attempt to climb atop a pedestal that is easy to fall off of, and both are thus done publicly.

Counter to this, God's word teaches humility. Life isn't about us, but about God. And, it should be: I can't, but He can. I'm not, but He is. 2 Corinthians 4:7 tells us that "...we have this treasure in jars of clay to show that this all surpassing power is from God and not from us."

Humility is a byproduct of grace. When we realize that all we have and all we've achieved is only by the grace of God, we'll begin to understand humility. When we no longer care who gets credit or recognition, then God is glorified.

I'm currently reading a book called Embracing Obscurity. I love the subtitle: Becoming Nothing in Light of God's Everything.

Seems Biblical and sounds good. I think that it is good advice for us all.

 Remember to say Thank You

People seem to have a natural tendency to take things for granted. "Please" is easy to remember because we use that word to help us get something we want. "Thank You" lacks more thought because we already have what we want and are ready to move on. Many believers find the same scenario to be true of their relationship with God. We know how to ask with "please" but don't invest much time in saying "thank you". Sarah can serve as a good model for doing better on our thank-you to God. Once her desire for a child was honored, she remembered to give God the credit — a special kind of thank you. This told the whole world how grateful she was for what the Lord had done for her. Genuine faith always expresses itself in gratitude. Does yours?

Thought to Remember Christ Died for You Will You Live for Him

Questions for the Week of 11-14-19

Q: Who is better than the mighty?
Q: Who is better than one who captures a city?

Today is a good day! Be grateful.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson went with his Mom and Aunt Mel-Mel to the Auburn game over the weekend and afterwards they sent me a video clip of him throwing toilet paper in the trees at Toomer's Corner. I am sure he enjoyed the game, but it looked like the highlight of the night was tossing the toilet paper.

For what it is worth....

 The regular season came to an end for teams all across the state and it was a good week for the area teams as three of the four won their season finales and all three of the winners moved on to this week's opening round of the playoffs. Here's a quick look back at last week's action....

* New Brockton continued its late-season surge with a 49-21 region win over Samson that gave the Gamecocks the #3 seed in the region. The Gamecocks have opened up their offense in recent weeks and the results have been successful as they have won four of their last five games and last week scored four touchdowns through the air. Don't look now, but the Gamecocks are peeking at just the right time.

* Zion Chapel blanked Pleasant Home 20-0 to earn its first playoff berth since 2011 and also hung up a victory on the scoreboard for the sixth time this season. The Rebels have quietly gone about their business all season long and except for a couple of stumbles have improved every time they took the field. To qualify for the post-season is just the next step in the rebuilding process up at Zion Chapel.

* Brantley posted a surprisingly easy 47-14 win over Goshen and appears to be cooking on all burners as it heads into the post-season. The Bulldogs have lit up the scoreboard all season long and have begun to be bullies on defense in recent weeks getting ready for what they hope will be a long playoff run. Don't be surprised if these 'Dogs play for many more weeks to come.

* Kinston battled for all four quarters in a disappointing 35-13 loss to Cottonwood that ended the Bulldogs season with a 3-7 record. The Bulldogs took a giant step forward this season under new head coach Rudy Free and at one time had their fans talking about a trip to the playoffs. However, it is going to take more than just one season to rebuild the program, and this past season was just the first step.

 The high school regular season drew to a close all across the state and here are just a few notes I jotted down after Friday nights action....

* Dothan ended the regular season 8-2 and will carry the region banner into the post-season party after a dominant 39-13 road win over 7A Jeff Davis in the Wolves first and last season in the 6A ranks.

* Enterprise rallied from a 27-7 fourth quarter deficit to stun seventh-ranked Theodore 28-27 and it looks like the Wildcats are definitely peeking at just the right time. The 'Cats will enter the post-season on a three-game winning streak after winning just two of their first even games, and may not be as easy an opening round foe as many had thought.

* Pike County thumped previously undefeated Sweet Water 25-7 to post its first unbeaten season since 2009. The Bulldogs don't get much publicity and kind of fly under the radar most of the time, but they will be a tough opponent in the post-season no matter who they play.

* Eufaula closed out an 8-2 season with a 41-14 romp past 7A Smiths Station and made it look easy as the Tigers carried a 38-0 lead in at the half. Coach Ed Rigby's Tigers have made a lot of noise in his second year at the helm and have never once backed away from the challenge of being in the Class6A ranks.

* Geneva rolled past Calhoun 41-20 to complete a successful 8-2 campaign and it looks like the Panthers are back after a few years of struggling to post a winning record. The Panthers owned a 41-0 halftime lead in last week's season finale and put it in cruise as they got the chance to rest the starters for the playoffs.

* Barbour County lost to Bullock County 64-6 in its season finale and the Tigers ended the season with a 60-game losing streak. The Tigers averaged 7.2 points a game and allowed a record 66.4 points a game in the season that included every game being shortened due to the lopsided scores. It may be time to drop the sport!

 The state high school football playoffs will kick off this week with all seven state champs back to defend their crowns. While there are a number of really good teams in the post-season party, there are also a few teams that will party with less than impressive stats. There are six teams in the playoffs with only three regular season wins, while 13 teams with four wins are in the field and 29 teams will enter the post-season with only five wins. There is an old saying that when the playoffs start all the teams are 0-0, and I guess this year there are some teams that will take that as a compliment.

 The first round of the playoffs are always filled with some possible blowouts in all seven classes, and while that is true again this season, there are also some interesting first round match-ups. The ones that caught my eye included Billingsley at Maplesville and Linden at Notasulga in Class 1A, Daleville at Leroy and G.W. Long at Cottage Hill in Class 2A, Bayside Academy at Providence Christian and Geneva at Mobile Christian in Class 3A, Andalusia at Trinity and Williamson at Montgomery Catholic in Class 4A, Vigor at Valley and Jackson at Rehobeth in Class 5A, Spanish Fort at Dothan and Blount at Eufaula in Class 6A, and Prattville at Theodore and Enterprise at McGill-Toolen in Class 7A.

 While the opening round games have yet to be played, it is always fun to look ahead and see what games may be coming for the fans in the second round. A couple of interesting possibilities include (1A) Maplesville at Sweet Water, Brantley at Linden and Elba at Lanett; (2A) Goshen at Leroy, Arifton at New Brockton, Abbeville at Reeltown, and Luverne at G.W. Long; (3A) Winfield at Pike County and Pike Road at Geneva; (4A) Lincoln at Andalusia and Hillcrest at American Christian; (5A) Rehobeth at Briarwood Christian; (6A) Bessemer City at Dothan and Eufaula at Hueytown; (7A) Auburn at Enterprise. Most of the match-ups won't take place, but it is easy to look ahead.

 Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator dropped by the office over the weekend and said he may never be the same after watching Auburn on TV the last two weekends. He declared the Tigers looked better in the loss to LSU than they did in the win over Ole Miss, and laughed about Malzahn getting booed off the field at halftime after letting the clock run out. As for the high school guesspert, he hit on 21 of his 24 picks last week to move his season totals to 269-60, and then left this week's playoff picks. Here is his fearless forecast....

ELBA VS. MARENGO

The Pea River felines will open the playoffs at home and will have a real fight on their hands with a litter of kitties that will make the trip up looking to take a win back home. The felines will have to play their best for all four quarters to advance in the playoffs in this one, and the guess here is that they will survive by the skin of their teeth.

ELBA 20 MARENGO 18

NEW BROCKTON VS. LAFAYETTE

The roosters from over near the bypass will have to hitch hike this weekend up above the Interstate looking to pull off a first round upset against a gang of 'dogs that hang out in the country. While the 'dogs no doubt are licking their lips looking forward to enjoying a chicken dinner, the roosters have plans for week two.

Elba hosts Marengo

No easy openers for area teams

The high school football playoffs kick off this week with four area teams still in the hunt for a state title.

Following is a preview of this week's playoff openers:

Marengo at Elba

The (7-3) Elba Tigers and (6-4) Marengo Panthers will meet for the first time ever Friday night when the two 1A powers tangle at Elba's Tiger Stadium.

Elba averaged 42.5 points per game and allowed 23.2 points per game in rolling to seven wins this season, and owns an all-time playoff record of 49-27, including an 18-13 record in the first round.

Marengo comes into the clash with a 13-22 all-time record in the playoffs, but is 9-13 in opening round games. The Panthers have defeated J.F. Shields 50-34, Fruitdale 34-26, St. Luke's 40-20, A.L. Johnson 42-0, McIntosh 36-0 and Wilcox Central 22-8, while losing to Pickens County 51-0, Southern Choctaw 37-12, Millry 41-0 and Sweet Water 48-0.

The Panthers had struggled to five straight losing seasons before head coach Eberne Myrthil took over the helms, and Myrthil has led the Panthers to six straight winning seasons and made the team a fixture in the post-season.

New Brockton at LaFayette

The (5-5) New Brockton Gamecocks will be on the road in the first round of the Class 2A playoffs on Friday

ZION CHAPEL VS. REELTOWN

The troops from up at Fort Jack have their muskets loaded and expect a real shootout with a gang of Rebels that are hiding in the woods up above the four lane. While the troops will be primed for a real battle, these Rebels will have the advantage of being at home, and may be a little too strong.

REELTOWN 28 ZIN CHAPEL 7

BRANTLEY VS. FRUITDALE

The bulldogs from up across the river have constructed a dam across the river to keep a band of pirates from sailing anywhere near the pound, and are confident that the dam will hold and the 'dogs can make plans for second round fun. It may be a little tougher than expected, but look for the bulldogs to keep on hunting.

The road for an opening round clash against the (9-1) Reeltown Rebels.

The two teams have met twice before, with Reeltown winning both games by a combined score of 78-0 in 2008 and 2009.

Zion Chapel posted its most wins since back in 2011 this season and averaged 18.3 points per game and allowed 28.7 points per game during the regular season. The Rebels own a 4-10 all-time playoff record and are 2-8 in first round action, but haven't win a play-off game since way back in 1979.

Reeltown lost its final game of the regular season to Ranburne by one point, and during the regular season averaged 35.1 points per game and allowed 11.6 points per game. The Rebels are 66-33 all-time in the playoffs and own a 26-10 first round record, but have win only one of their last four opening round match-ups.

Zion Chapel at Reeltown

The (6-4) Zion Chapel Rebels will be looking to continue its historic season Friday night when they hit

Fruitdale at Brantley

The (9-1) Brantley Bulldogs will be looking to continue to pile up the wins Friday night when they host the (5-5) Fruitdale Pirates in opening round action in the 1A playoffs.

The two teams have met only once on the gridiron, with the Bulldogs posting a 62-0 win back in 2012.

Brantley won its final five games of the season to claim the region title and averaged 43.5 points per game and allowed 17.3 points per game in regular season action. The Bulldogs own a 69-34 all-time play-off record, boast a 31-7 first round record, and have won 15 of their last 17 first round games.

Fruitdale closed the regular season with four losses in its last five games and during the season averaged 32.5 points per game and allowed 30.8 points per game. The Pirates own a 3-14 all-time playoff record and in the opening round have a 3-11 slate.

Elba Lady Tigers bounce back last week after loss to Luverne to defeat Brantley 28-21

The Elba Junior High Lady Tigers hit the basketball court twice last week and posted one win to push their record to 3-1.

The Lady Tigers tipped off the week's action at home against Luverne and dropped a hard fought 24-18 decision. The score was tied at 10-10 at the half, but Luverne opened up an 18-14 lead in the third quarter and the Lady Tigers never recovered as they lost their first game of the young season.

A'Lyric Whitfield and Kendra Juarez both scored 6 points to lead Elba, while Brooke Tinsley added 4 points and Tajah Purvis scored 2. Richardson scored 16 points to lead Luverne.

The Lady Tigers hosted Brantley late in the week and rallied to post an exciting 28-21 win. The Lady Tigers trailed 10-5 at the half, but outscored Brantley 17-0 in the third quarter to grab a 22-10 lead and rolled to the big win.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 10 points to lead Elba, while Tajah Purvis added 6, Kendra Juarez added 5, Alayvia Stinson added 4, Destinee Tidwell added 2 and Brook Tinsley scored 1. Driggers and Richardson both scored 5 points to lead Brantley.

In key region match-up Gamecocks slam Samson 49-21

Statistics by Speedy White

The New Brockton Gamecocks continued their late season surge Friday night with a dominating 49-21 win over the Samson Tigers, at Gamecock Stadium.

New Brockton began its first possession of the night at its own 24-yardline and went 76 yards in 14 plays to grab the early lead. Kyan Horne rushed for 30 yards on seven carries to help lead the Gamecocks down the field, while a key play in the long scoring drive was a 20-yard pass completion from Kaden Cupp to De'Shawn McLeod on third down and 15 at the Samson 35-yardline. The score came on an 8-yard touchdown toss from Cupp to Kaden Hood, and while the extra point failed, the Gamecocks were on top 6-0 with 3:39 left in the opening quarter.

New Brockton began its next possession near mid-field and went 45 yards in three plays to extend its lead. The score came on a 41-yard touchdown pass from Kaden Cupp to Russell Weeks, and Cupp also passed to Weeks for the two-point conversion as the lead grew to 14-0 with 1:10 still left in the quarter.

New Brockton regained possession near midfield on a pass interception by De'Shawn McLeod, and from there it took the Gamecocks 11 plays to cover the 51 yards into the endzone. Russell Weeks tossed a 14-yard pass completion to Matthew Speigner on a fake punt to keep the drive alive early, while the touchdown came on a 6-yard run by Kaden Cupp. Brandon McCoy added the extra point, and with 7:00 remaining in the second quarter the Gamecocks were on top 21-0.

New Brockton got the ball back late in the half at its own 29-yardline and covered the distance to the endzone in nine plays to take command. A 14-yard pass from Cupp to CJ Wilkerson on third down and ten was a key play early in the long scoring drive, while Cupp later connected with Wilkerson for a 9-yard gain on third down and eight. The score came on a 46-yard touchdown toss from Cupp to Weeks with 7-seconds left on the clock, and McCoy booted the extra point as the Gamecocks carried a 28-0 lead in at the half.

New Brockton received the second half kickoff and promptly marched 77 yards in eight plays to blow the game open. Kaden Cupp capped the drive with a 63-yard touchdown pass to De'Shawn McLeod, and McCoy added the extra point as the Gamecocks opened up a 35-0 lead with 9:05 left in the third quarter.

Samson's fans finally had something to cheer about late in the quarter when the Tigers got on the scoreboard on a 37-yard pass interception return for a touchdown, but the extra point try failed, and with 2:30 left in the quarter the Tigers still trailed big at 35-6.

New Brockton's Jamarcus Brown returned the ensuing kickoff 36 yards to give the offense a short field with which to work, and the Gamecocks took advantage of the field advantage to extend its lead. Jake Holloway bulled over from 9 yards out for the score, and McCoy's extra point try was true, as New Brockton's lead went to 42-6 with 10:55 left in the fourth quarter.

Samson's Braxton Brooks broke loose for a 68-yard touchdown run on the Tigers next possession, and Joseph McNally ran in the two-point conversion as Samson closed the deficit to 42-14 with 10:35 left on the clock, and the Tigers got back on the scoreboard with 6:20 remaining on a 36-yard dash by Brooks, and Francisco Laureano added the extra point to pull the Tigers within 42-21.

New Brockton put an end to any Samson hopes of a miracle comeback on its ensuing possession as the Gamecocks went 40 yards in eight plays to out the final points of the night on the scoreboard. Jamarcus Brown scored the touchdown on a 4-yard run, and McCoy added the extra point as New Brockton sealed the win and the #3 seed in the region with the impressive 49-21 win.

Kaden Cupp completed 10 of 17 passes for 240 yards and 4 touchdowns to lead the Gamecocks, with Russell Weeks pulling in 3 passes for 97 yards and 2 td's, De'Shawn McLeod pulling in 2 passes for 83 yards and one td, and Kaden Hood pulling in 2 passes for 23 yards and one td. Brandon McCoy sparked the Gamecock defense with 8 tackles, one sack and one blocked extra point attempt, while Julian Noble added 3 tackles and one sack and Matthew Speigner added 2 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Brantley rips Goshen 47-14

From combined reports

The Brantley Bulldogs remained on a late-season roll Friday night with an impressive 47-14 road win over the Goshen Eagles.

Brantley scored twice in both the first and second quarters to build a solid 28-0 halftime advantage, and while Goshen reached the endzone twice in the third quarter, the Bulldogs never lost command and coasted in with the lopsided win as they ended the regular season with a 9-1 record.

Tucker Kilcrease completed 14 of 21 passes for 148 yards and 4 touchdowns to lead the Bulldog scoring parade, with Messiah Burnett pulling in 6 passes for 69 yards and all 4 touchdowns. D'Andrea Owens added 116 yards and two touchdowns rushing to spark the Bulldogs on the ground.

Bryan Galloway was responsible for both Eagle touchdowns as he completed an 81-yard scoring pass and also scored on a 5-yard run.

Zion Chapel's Bass Team fishes Alabama BASS National High School tourney on Lake Tuscaloosa

The Zion Chapel Bass Team's adventure continues.

The team members are showing dedication to this sport as they venture out into large waters and seek to find the large fish. While they endeavor to compete with many teams with years of experience, they are holding their own as beginners.

Their fourth tournament of the season was Saturday, Oct. 12 at Lake Tuscaloosa; this was the Zion Chapel team's first Alabama BASS National High School tournament. This was one of four state regional qualifier tournaments.

There were 147 high school teams entered in this tournament. With each new tournament, the ZC team continues to learn that competitive fishing is much more than baiting and casting a line.

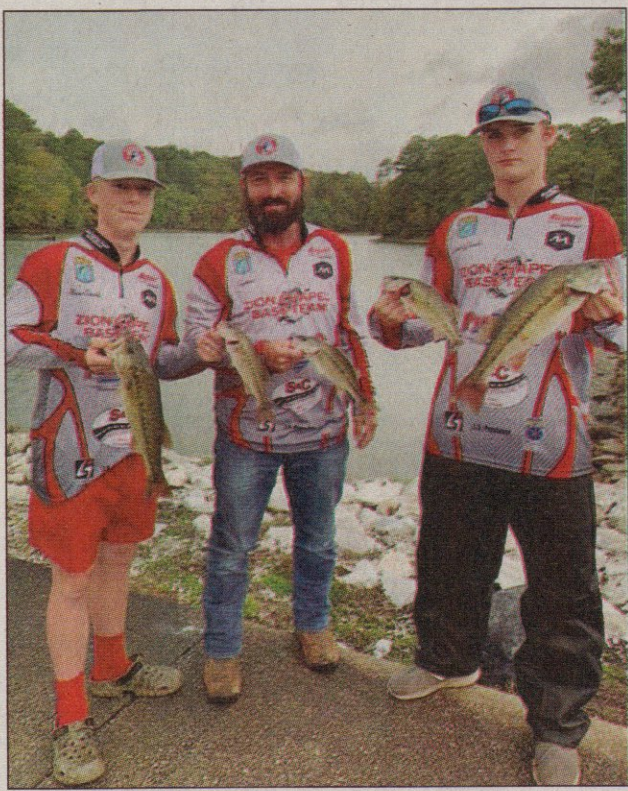

In order to increase their chances of locating a good spot and catching the big ones, the team practiced fishing on Friday. However, pre-tournament fishing does not always translate into winning weights in the event. In this case, the weather on Friday, which is a major factor, did not compare to the weather the following day. Rain and cool weather rolled in during the night. It was an uncomfortable day, but the anglers never quit.

Following a day of pre-fishing, the anglers were required to attend a briefing/registration of the 2019-2020 of the Alabama BASS National High School Tournament Tiger Division. The ZC anglers were excited to wear their new jerseys made possible by their many sponsors and were featured on Sports Chat with Neal & Wally. No doubt this tournament was larger and more complex than any of the team's previous tournaments.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 12, the teams began checking in at 5 a.m.; they departed the check point around 7 for an arduous day of fishing for the big ones. At the 2 p.m. weigh-in, the ZC anglers anxiously waited to learn their weights and see how they compared with their competitors.

All ZC teams weighed in fish. The winning total was the Headland team with just over 8 pounds. Out of 147 boats, the ZC teams' rankings were as follows: Padgett/Young #48, Lee/Devos #56, and Dowdy/Jacobs #91.

The novelty of this tournament was the fact that the supporters of the teams back home were able to view the weigh-in on Facebook Live. The weigh-in and awards presentation lasted over three hours. This makes for a long day for anglers, captains, and supporters.

The ZC Bass Team adventure continued Saturday, Oct. 26, at Lake Martin as part of the Wiregrass Student Angler Trail. The captains had another difficult task because mother nature was not in their favor. However, the anglers fought the adverse conditions and all teams caught the limit of five fish.

With 64 boats registered in this tournament, the team of Dowdy/Jacobs finished #19 with 8.28 pounds. They also weighed in a big fish at 3.10 pounds which put them in sixth place in the big fish competition for the tournament. The team of Padgett/Young finished #30 with a limit of five fish weighing 7.13 pounds. The team of Devos/Lee finished #52 with a limit weighing 4.93 pounds.

The ZC Team will have their last tournament Nov. 16th on the Wiregrass Student Angler Trail at Lake Eufaula. Going into this tournament with 100 teams competing, the team of Padgett/Young is currently in 17th place, the team of Devos/Lee is in 23rd place, and the team of Dowdy/Jacobs is in 34th place.

The weigh-in for this tournament will begin at 2 p.m. at Lakepoint Resort State Park. The weigh-in is open to the public. Their supporters are invited to attend and show their support.

2019 COFFEE COUNTY FORESTRY & WILDLIFE FIELD DAYS...The Coffee County Conservation District and the Coffee County Forestry Advisory Committee recently hosted five Coffee County Forestry and Wildlife Field Days. The events were held between Oct. 17th and Oct. 31st. All 5th graders from Enterprise City Schools, Ft Rucker Elementary, Elba Elementary, Wiregrass Home School, Kinston Elementary, New Brockton Elementary and Zion Chapel Elementary were invited to attend the program. A total of 790 students attended this year! Three of the events were held at National Security Recreation property in Elba. Due to rainy weather, the fourth day of the event was held at the New Brockton Farm Center. Day five of the event was held at the Elba Recreation Center. Exhibits included a live amphibian and reptile exhibit, Skins and Skulls, an Oh Deer! activity, rescued animals from the Big Bend Wildlife Sanctuary, and general forest management practices. The event is a great hands-on forestry and wildlife learning experience for students. After the activities, everyone enjoyed sack lunches. In addition to those previously mentioned, this event was supported by a grant from the Wiregrass RC&D Council. Other organizations assisting with field days include the Alabama Forestry Commission, the Coffee County Cooperative Extension System, the Natural Resources Conservation Service, Alabama Wildlife & Freshwater Fisheries, Big Bend Wildlife Sanctuary, and the Alabama Heritage Program.
